Review by While Role-playing games are the hardcore segment of the gaming industry, the casual audience also shows interest in this style of games. This means that a lot of different groups of gamers would love to play a character in an RPG, sometimes more than one at the same time. Besides the fact that people are interested in having a wider range of role playing games to choose from, there is also a relatively small pool of NPCs that add a bit of variety to the usual role playing games. THE NEW FANTASY ACTION RPG. So, imagine their surprise when, after years of waiting, they see that someone has been working on a new fantasy action RPG game. Thankfully, The New Fantasy Action RPG, is exactly what they had in mind. In this role-playing game, your objective is to make your way through vast landscapes and fight against powerful enemies in an attempt to find your way home. In the game, there will not be a time limit, so you will not be punished for not making any progress. So, what makes this game stand out from other similar fantasy action RPGs? Firstly, this particular game has a focus on online play, which means that this RPG will not be just an offline role playing game. On top of that, instead of a story that takes a linear path, the game uses a semi-realistic story that tells the journey of a chosen hero from a unique perspective. While they are travelling through the lands of Ela, in search of the lost shards of the orbs of the Dragon King that symbolize the light of the Elden Ring, they go through dangerous quests and face against dangerous monsters, they also have the chance to explore other lands with their own unique gameplay mechanics. The action part of the title might also come as a surprise, since this game is set in a fantasy role-playing game. However, The New Fantasy Action RPG is not just another fantasy role-playing game. Instead of the typical life of a hero, there are only three states in this game. The first state is when you are dead and you cannot move. In this state, you cannot go back and try to save the life of someone else, you have to deal with your own death and dying. The second state is when you are wounded and you have to fight to make yourself well again, all while looking for an item that could heal you. In this state, you have to fight on to keep yourself alive and make sure you manage to bff6bb2d33
